

FUSION

A blend of both worlds

Fusion lives up to its name by bringing together contrasts in timber species, glazing and metal inlays in unique ways. Combinations of dark Jarrah or Blackwood timbers contrast against pale Ash to create a statement that is truly individual. Horizontal glazing bordered by a contemporary square bead treatment projects an understated style for today's minimalist architecture. Fusion Metal doors have the eye-catching distinction of inlays of brushed stainless steel running from top to bottom.

Fusion doors are flush construction and feature William Russell's SoundCore™ cuts down sound transmission while offering light weight yet sturdy construction qualities.
